

View this email in your browser

CREATIVE BRIEFING

INTERNATIONAL STORIES ABOUT THE UK
CREATIVE INDUSTRIES

Hello <<First Name>>

Here's your first newsletter from thecreativeindustries.co.uk, the website of the Creative Industries Council. We thought you might be interested in these stories from the UK's creative businesses:

- How well do you know the UK's creative clusters? Nesta's new 'Creative Nation' report highlights the potential for growth well beyond the world-class hubs of London and the South East. Try the accompanying interactive tool to discover more about cities around the UK.
- The value of the UK's creative services and goods exports could be as much as £46 billion - 24% higher than official estimates, a new analysis shows.
- India is one of the leading export markets for the UK TV production sector, with 40% growth last year. So it's good to hear that the UK's television and entertainment industry body, Pact, has signed a deal with the Producers Guild of India to share best practice, projects and ideas.

Creative company focus: London Fashion Week is a key date for international fashion buyers looking for new designs. During LFW, rising star Richard Quinn was honoured by the Queen as a break-through talent.

Booking now: Createch 2018 will explore the intersection of technology and creativity in London on June 12th. Speakers will explain how immersive storytelling, blockchain and AI are shaking up the creative industries worldwide. Take a look at our video below to hear from speakers at last year's conference.

Until next time,

Editor

www.thecreativeindustries.co.uk

Hear from June Sarpong and other speakers at the first Createch conference held in London last year.

For a complete overview of the UK's creative industries, visit www.thecreativeindustries.co.uk, the website of the Creative Industries Council (CIC). The CIC is a joint forum for industry leaders and government, and focuses on removing barriers to growth of creative enterprises.

Copyright © 2018 Creative Industries Council, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

MailChimp